

CITY PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD SOLDIERS ON ARMISTICE DAY

Celebration Begins With Masses and Other Church Services for Heroes.

New York began its celebration today of the second anniversary of Armistice Day with solemn masses and other church services for the soldier dead a full hour before the fateful time at which the Germans signed their plea for peace in 1918. At 10 o'clock, while the masses for the unreturning heroes of the 307th Infantry was being recited in the Church of All Saints, at 129th Street and Madison Avenue, thirteen veterans who distinguished themselves in the naval service were decorated with medals at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

When 11 o'clock came, the hour of signing, there arose from the city a reverberating diapason of bells, for every bell in the city began then its commemorating toll. Churches, school houses, all the buildings throughout Greater New York equipped with bells, lent themselves to the rising, swelling sound. And also, throughout the city, its people paused at their work in remembrance of the great celebration in which they had joined two years ago to symbolize the end of the world's greatest war. Among the earliest celebrations of the day were those conducted by the New York Community Service in the big department stores before they were opened for business. On the first floor of R. H. Macy's establishment, 1,000 employees gathered and, led by Hollis Davenney of the Service, sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and "America." President La Guardia of the Board of Aldermen delivered a brief address. At James McCreery & Co.'s store 3,000 employees gathered and sang patriotic songs, led by Fred Gunther.

Programmes for today's commemorative exercises included thousands of citizens and engaged them in a score of ceremonies which lasted from early morning until well into the night. Business houses throughout the city, and many of the departments and bureaus of the City Administration gave holidays to the employees that they might have part in the celebration. Veterans of the Police Department and Fire Department were granted leave to celebrate with their wartime organizations. The two-platoon system in the Fire Department was suspended at 9 o'clock for twenty-four hours as 700 men had put in applications for leave.

The afternoon programme of commemoration included the planting of twelve trees in Madison Square as a memorial to twelve heroes of the Metropolitan Post of the American Legion, a dinner for war aviators at the Hotel Astor and another for the French veterans at the Hotel Pennsylvania, a reunion of the New York Association of the 80th Division officers at the Hotel Brevoort and of the 208th Field Artillery at the Yorkville Casino, and a dinner of the City Club Post of the American Legion. Gen. Nivelle will be the guest of honor to-night at a celebration by the New York County organization of the Legion in the Seventh Regiment Armory. He will deliver an address and afterward there will be a presentation of medals to 135 poets.

IDENTIFIES AUNT KILLED ON DRIVE

Nephew Says Auto Ran Down Mrs. Calvert on Way to His Home.

The body of the well dressed woman who was killed by an automobile Tuesday night on Riverside Drive between 95th and 96th streets has been identified at the Morgue as that of Mrs. Wilber E. Calvert, forty, of No. 1000 Broadway.

Pittsford, her nephew, who lives at No. 277 Riverside Drive, said his aunt was coming to have dinner at his home when she was killed. His wife saw the limp body placed in a car and driven away without knowing who it was.

WICK-UNDERHILL WEDDING. In the Church of the Incarnation yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Miss Helen Oakley Underhill, daughter of Frederic Underhill, of No. 70 West 16th Street, was married to Henry Wick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bryson Wick of Cleveland, O. The Rev. H. Percy Silver officiated at the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Hotel Gotham.

MORE ATTENTION THAN THE AVERAGE WOMAN EXPECTS

In the shops of I. Miller, the greatest possible degree of service is given. Not only are the sales persons agreeable and capable, but the styles have character, splendid fitting qualities and a nice measure of elegance.

It is an undeniable fact, daily verified by critical women, that the novelty, good taste and excellence of I. Miller Slippers, Boots and Stockings are indeed desirable, and more than meet one's expectations.

Many attractive orthopedic styles which adhere to the I. Miller character are securable.
